Socrates not guilty in mock trial

Socrates was a free man after a mock trial Monday at the Harris Theater in a defense win for Robert A. Clifford and Sarah F. King of Clifford Law Offices, far left and right, and Dan Webb of Winston & Strawn. The team defended the bearded philosopher, played by actor John Kapelos, before judges (whose analysis was less forgiving) and jurors, who ultimately tipped the scales to a very different outcome than in 399 B.C.
